

Indiana residents enjoy the privacy of our home phones. Our privacy law has been in place for a couple of years and we do not want to have to comply with a different standard than our own law. The consumer banking industry has petitioned the FCC but as a citizen of Indiana I do not want that to happen